Subject: Observance of World Environment Day – 5th June 2025

The North West Himalayas University is pleased to acknowledge the global celebration of World Environment Day on 5th June 2025, dedicated this year to the theme:

“Land Restoration, Desertification, and Drought Resilience.”

As a newly established institution nestled in the lap of the Himalayas, we recognize the vital role our natural environment plays in shaping lives and learning. Even as our academic sessions are yet to begin, the University stands committed to sustainability, ecological awareness, and environmental stewardship.

We encourage all faculty members, administrative teams, and associated partners to take a moment to reflect on their environmental responsibility and take small yet meaningful actions—be it planting a sapling, reducing plastic use, or simply spreading awareness.

Let us together lay the foundation of a green, responsible, and eco-conscious campus culture.

“Only One Earth. Only One Future.”

With Regards,
The University of North West Himalayas
